\n\n

- \n• The President recently promulgated the Fugitive Economic Offenders Ordinance.
- \n• Passage of Fugitive Economic Offenders Bill was delayed due to disruptions in the Parliament.
- \n• Click here to know more on the Bill.

\n\n

What are the key features?

\n\n

- \n• The ordinance seeks to confiscate properties of economic offenders who have left the country to avoid facing criminal prosecution.

\n\n

- \n• Offender - A fugitive economic offender is a person against whom an arrest warrant has been issued for committing offence like

\n\n

- \ni. counterfeiting government stamps or currency, cheque dishonour for insufficiency of funds
- \nii. money laundering

iii. transactions defrauding creditors

\n

\n\n

\n

- A fugitive economic offender is one who has left the country to avoid facing prosecution, or refuses to return to face prosecution.

\n

\n\n

\n

- Provisions - The provisions of the ordinance will apply for economic offenders with following conditions:

\n

\n\n

\n

i. who refuse to return

\n

ii. persons against whom an arrest warrant has been issued for a scheduled offence

\n

iii. wilful bank loan defaulters with outstanding of over Rs.100 crore

\n

\n\n

\n

- It provides for confiscating assets even without a conviction.

\n

- It also provides for paying off lenders by selling off the fugitive's properties.

\n

- Such economic offenders will be tried under Prevention of Money Laundering Act (PMLA).

\n

\n\n

What is the procedure?

\n\n

\n

- Application - A director or deputy director, appointed under the PMLA, 2002, may file an application.

\n

- This is to declare a person as a fugitive economic offender.

\n

- It can be filed before a special court, designated under the 2002 Act.
\n
- It will contain the reasons to believe that an individual is a fugitive economic offender.
\n
- Besides, it will have information about
\n

\n\n

- \n
- i. the whereabouts of the offender
\n
- ii. list of properties believed to be proceeds of a crime for which confiscation is sought
\n
- iii. list of benami properties or foreign properties for which confiscation is sought
\n
- iv. list of persons having an interest in these properties
\n

\n\n

- \n
- Court - Upon receiving the application, the special court will issue a notice to the individual.
\n
- It requires the person to appear at a specified place within 6 weeks.
\n
- If the person appears at the specified place, the special court will terminate its proceedings under the provisions of the Bill.
\n
- Property - Property belonging to the offender may provisionally be attached without the prior permission of the special court.
\n
- This is, provided that an application is filed before the court within 30 days.
\n
- Appeals against the orders of the special court will lie before the high court.
\n

\n\n

What are the concerns?

\n\n

- \n
- A series of instances with absconding offenders has pressurised the government to take immediate action.

\n

- They include liquor baron Vijay Mallya's, IPL commissioner Lalit Modi, diamond merchants Nirav Modi and Mehul Choksi.

\n

- Government agencies have attached the diamond merchant duo's assets in India.

\n

- But an American court has disallowed the sale of their assets in other jurisdictions.

\n

- It's because India is yet to pass a model law mooted by the UN for cross-border insolvency cases.

\n

- It is not clear whether this ordinance can make up for this shortfall.

\n

- The ordinance route reflects the urgency to react to recent offences.

\n

- But the government needs to present a coherent vision about its plans to bring back those fugitives who have already got away.

\n

- The government has to plug many more legal loopholes in the whole system.
