India's Plan to End Child Marriage

Why in news?

The UNFPA-UNICEF Global Programme to End Child Marriage team is on a visit to India to witness state interventions which have helped reduce the prevalence of child marriage.

What is the situation of child marriage in the world?

- Data - According to data from UNICEF, the total number of girls married in childhood stands at 12 million per year.
- The UNFPA-UNICEF estimates that 10 million children could become child brides as a result of the pandemic globally.
- Concerns - Although, the risk of marrying before the girl turns 18 has dropped by more than a third in South Asia, the progress has been uneven.
- The consequences of child marriage not only violates children's rights, but also because results in more infant and maternal deaths.
- Children born to adolescent mothers have a greater possibility of seeing stunted growth as they have low weight at birth.

Where does India stand?

- Overall picture - In India, child marriage reduced from 47.4% in 2005-06 to 26.8% in 2015-16, registering a decline of 21% points during the decade.
- In the last five years, it declined to 23.3% in 2020-21, according to the latest National Family Health Survey-5 data.
- Status of the States - Among the bigger States, West Bengal and Bihar have the highest prevalence of girl child marriage.
- States with a large population of tribal poor have a higher prevalence of child marriage.
 - For instance, in Jharkhand, 32.2% of women in the age bracket 20-24 got married before 18, according to NFHS-5.
- Several States are pegged just below the national average.
- In Kerala, women who got married before the age of 18 stood at 6.3% in 2019-20 whereas it is 12.8% for Tamil Nadu.

Odisha now has over 12,000 Child Marriage Free Villages.

What laws and policy interventions are available?

- Legislations - The Prohibition of Child Marriage Act, 2006 and the Protection of Children from Sexual Offences Act, 2012, aim at protecting children from violation of rights.
- Amendment of personal laws - The government is keen on amending the personal laws governing marriages to stop the practice of child marriage.
- Standing committee - A parliamentary standing committee is weighing the pros and cons of raising the age of marriage for women to 21.
- Helplines - The government has introduced a CHILDLINE with short code 1098, a 24X7 telephone emergency outreach service for children in crisis.
- Commissions - The National Commission for Protection of Child Rights (NCPCR) undertakes various activities and programmes on the issue of child marriages and related matters.
- Awareness - Several thousand child marriage prohibition officers have been notified in Karnataka and 90,000 local gram panchayat members have been oriented to spread awareness on child marriage.
- Schemes - Schemes like the Beti Bachao Beti Padhao, Shagun Scheme Aashirwad, etc. assist in reducing the percentage of child marriage in the state.

What needs to be done?

- A lot more needs to be done on factors closely linked to child marriage, including
 - Eradication of poverty
 - Better education and public infrastructure facilities for children
 - Raising social awareness on health, nutrition, regressive social norms and inequalities
- There needs to be a focus on an all-pronged approach to end the practice - strong laws, strict enforcement, preparing an ideal situation on the ground to ensure that the girl child gets an education.
- The recommendations of the Shivraj Patil Committee report 2011 that have helped bring down the percentage of child marriages in Karnataka can be incorporated in other states too.
