

SC Verdict on Women's Entry into Sabarimala Temple

Why in news?

\n\n

The Supreme Court, in a recent judgement, allowed women, irrespective of their age, to enter Kerala's Sabarimala temple. Click here to know more on the case.

\n\n

What is the ruling?

\n\n

\n

- In a 4-1 majority, the court struck down provisions of the Kerala Hindu Places of Public Worship (Authorisation of Entry) Rules, 1965.

\n

- The Rules banned women between the age of 10 and 50 from entering the Sabarimala temple, a practice in place for centuries.

\n

- The judgment came over a clutch of petitions challenging the ban, which was upheld by the Kerala High Court.

\n

\n\n

What is the SC's rationale?

\n\n

\n

- Religious Rights - The Constitution protects religious freedom in two ways:

\n

\n\n

\n

- i. protects an individual's right to profess, practise and propagate a religion

\n

- ii. assures protection to every religious denomination to manage its own affairs

\n

\n\n

\n

- The Sabarimala temple case represented a conflict between -

\n

\n\n

\n

- i. the group rights of the temple authorities in enforcing the presiding deity's strict celibate status

\n

- ii. the individual rights of women in 10-50 age group to offer worship there

\n

\n\n

\n

- The Travancore Devaswom Board (TDB) had argued that they form a denomination and hence be allowed to make rules.

\n

- The court instead ruled that Ayyappa devotees do not constitute a separate religious denomination.

\n

- It held that prohibition on women is not an essential part of Hindu religion, and hence the court can intervene.

\n

- The judgement establishes the principle that individual freedom prevails over professed group rights, even in matters of religion.

\n

- Social notions - The judgement relooks at the stigmatisation of women devotees based on a medieval view of menstruation as symbolising impurity and pollution.

\n

- So much so, exclusion based on the notion of impurity is a form of untouchability.

\n

- Also, the argument that women of menstruating age could not observe the 41-day period of abstinence failed to make sense.

\n

- The court noted that any rule based on segregation of women pertaining to biological characteristics is unconstitutional.

\n

\n\n

What was the dissenting Judge's remark?

\n\n

- \n
 - Justice Malhotra was the lone woman on the bench who had a dissenting view.
- \n
 - She noted that what constitutes essential religious practice is for the religious community to decide and not the court.
- \n
 - Notions of rationality cannot be brought into matters of religions.
- \n
 - Balance needs to be struck between religious beliefs on one hand and Constitutional principles of non-discrimination and equality on the other.
- \n
 - She also stated that the present judgment would not be limited to Sabarimala but will have wide ramifications.
- \n
 - So issues of deep religious sentiments should not be ordinarily interfered into by the Court.
- \n

\n\n

Why is Sabarimala case unique?

\n\n

- \n
 - Ayyappan of Sabarimala is worshipped as a celibate god.
- \n
 - Pilgrims are expected to practice celibacy and abstinence during the 41-day vratam (pious observances).
- \n
 - Sabarimala stands out among Kerala's temples spaces for its accommodation of all devotees irrespective of religion and caste.
- \n
 - It has thus helped the shrine administrators to evade the rights test - in this case, that of women of a particular age group.
- \n
 - The unique and site-specific tradition also kept it outside the purview of the historic temple entry protests.
- \n
 - The Travancore Devaswom Board is thus likely to file a review petition after securing support from other religious heads.
