

Specially Designated Global Terrorist

Why in news?

\n\n

The US administration has declared Syed Salahuddin a 'Specially Designated Global Terrorist'.

\n\n

Who is Syed Salahuddin?

\n\n

\n

- He is currently the chief of Hizbul Mujahideen (HM), one of several homegrown militant groups that have been operating from the Valley for decades.

\n

- He is also the head of an alliance of anti-India militant groups, the United Jihad Council, that works to annex the Indian state of Jammu and Kashmir to Pakistan.

\n

- He contested the 1987 elections from the Muslim United Front (MUF).

\n

- Salahuddin lost the election, then alleged it had been rigged.

\n

- Many Pakistanis think he is a well-educated Kashmiri from Srinagar who was forced to pick up the gun after the rigged in 1987.

\n\n

What does the designation of global terrorist mean?

\n\n

\n

- Such categorisation is aimed at disrupting the financial support network for terrorists and terrorist organisations.

\n

- It deters donations or contributions to designated individuals or entities.
- \n
- The designation also authorises US government to block the assets of foreign individuals and entities that commit or pose a significant risk of committing acts of terrorism.
- \n
- It also increases public awareness and knowledge of individuals or entities linked to terrorism.

\n

\n\n

How is the list different from the UN's sanction list?

\n\n

\n

- A UN designation is recognised by all countries and is considered a non-partisan global sanction.
- \n
- Whereas, the US designation is limited only to the United States.
- \n
- India had sought the UNSC's global terrorist designation for Syed Salahuddin but the move was blocked by China.
- \n
- Although the US sanction is confined to that country, it can compel other Western countries to follow suit.

\n

\n\n

What significance does this hold to India?

\n\n

\n

- This is the first time a Kashmiri militant has been designated a "global terrorist".
- \n
- By branding Syed Salahuddin as SDGT, the US has accepted that HM is not an "indigenous terror group" in Kashmir and poses a greater threat to the world, even though the outfit has confined itself to the Kashmir Valley.
- \n
- The US move is a recognition of India's longstanding position that cross-border terrorism is behind the crisis in Kashmir.
