

IAS PARLIAMENT

Information is Empowering
A Shankar IAS Academy Initiative

USA - China Diplomacy

Why in news?

\n\n

- \n
- Changing dynamic between the traditional hegemon, USA and its challenger, China is becoming apparent.
- \n
- While it is clear that Washington and Beijing need each other, the terms of a new economic and political settlement is far from clear.
- \n

\n\n

What constituted Trump's Asia Tour?

\n\n

Objectives:

\n\n

- \n
- Greater reciprocity in the commercial engagement with Asia
- \n
- Strengthening US alliances and partnerships in the region
- \n
- Solving North Korea's nuclear weapons programme
- \n

\n\n

Schedule:

\n\n

- \n
- Trump is participating in two major regional summits
- \n

\n\n

- \n
- Forum for Asia Pacific Economic Cooperation in Vietnam
- \n
- East Asia Summit in the Philippines.
- \n

\n\n

- \n
- He also had bilateral visits to Japan & South Korea.
- \n
- This was then followed by a bilateral visit to China, which was considered the most important aspect of the trip.
- \n

\n\n

Tone:

\n\n

- \n
- Most Asian leaders were seen trying please the American President during the recent visit by heaping elaborate praise.
- \n

\n\n

- \n
- The China bilateral was particularly noticeable for its mutual flattery between Mr.Xi & Mr.Trump.
- \n
- However, while flattery certainly generates the right mood music, it is not enough to resolve structural problems.
- \n

\n\n

What are the challenges?

\n\n

- \n
- The difficulties in advancing the objectives on all the three fronts are immense.
- \n
- Trump's exchanges with Xi are also emblematic of the new complexities driving Asian politics.
- \n
- USA has also been pressing for "fair" rather than "free trade" with Asia -

which highlights the USAs trade friction with china.

\n

- Notably, USA's has a large trade deficit with China.

\n

- Accommodating China's rise without abandoning its long-standing allies and friends in the region is another major challenge.

\n

\n\n

How has Beijing responded?

\n\n

\n

- Economic - Beijing wrapping a package of commercial deals with American companies amounting to $250 billion.

\n

- But many of these deals will take a long time to materialise as they are MoUs rather than commercial contracts.

\n

- While this will give Mr.Trump some room to drop his hostile rhetoric against China, it does nothing to address USA's massive trade deficit.

\n

- Demands for more market access, technology transfer, cyber security and protecting intellectual property is expected to continue.

\n

\n\n

\n

- Political - While the need for greater cooperation was stressed, there was no significant breakthrough on North Korea.

\n

- Trump publicly reminded the need to stop arming, financing and trading with North Korea — most of which is from China.

\n

- Mr.Xi insisted that there were enough avenues for China & USA to co-operate and grow mutually.

\n

- The need to jointly promote peace and stability in Asia was also stressed.

\n

- Notably, Trump had previously warned of selling advanced arms to its regional allies - an assertion of its primacy in Asia.

\n

\n\n

What lies ahead for India?

\n\n

\n

- The tension between USA's traditional commitment to economic globalisation and Trump's 'America First' policies is unlikely to be resolved any time soon.

\n

- The rise of China and the turbulence in US domestic politics have created a climate of uncertainty.

\n

- US and China will continue to jockey for political primacy in Asia.

\n

- This situation has led the countries in the region to jockey for diversifying their security partnerships.

\n

- In this context, managing its problems with China while simultaneously deepening ties with US and other key Asian partners is crucial for India.

\n

\n\n

\n\n

Source: Indian Express

\n\n

\n

IAS PARLIAMENT

Information is Empowering

A Shankar IAS Academy Initiative