WTO MC13

Why in news?

The World Trade Organization's (WTO) 13th Ministerial Conference (MC13) held at Abu Dhabi in the UAE adopted the Abu Dhabi Ministerial Declaration.

What is WTO?

- The World Trade Organization is the only international organization that deals with the rules of trade between countries.
- Establishment- Created in 1995 under the Marrakesh Agreement, replacing the 1947 General Agreement on Tariffs and Trade (GATT).
- Members- 164 members representing 98% of world trade.
- Decision making- Unlike other organisations, such as the IMF or World Bank, WTO does not delegate power to a board of directors or an organisational chief.
- All decisions are taken through consensus and any member can exercise a veto.
- Aim- To promote free trade, which is done through trade agreements that are discussed and signed by the member states.
- To provide a forum for countries to negotiate trade rules and settle economic disputes between them.
- Headquarters- Geneva, Switzerland
- Ministerial Conference- It is the topmost decision-making body of WTO which usually meets every two years.
- General Council - It is the WTO's highest-level decision-making body that meets regularly to carry out the functions of the WTO.
- The General Council also meets under different rules as the Dispute Settlement Body and as the Trade Policy Review Body.

What issues were unaddressed?

- Fisheries subsidy - The delegates left MC13 with no progress on fisheries beyond the MC12 deal.
- Issues will continue to plague global fishing, particularly the lack of subsidy bans on active overfishing.

- Agriculture (Public stockholding) - Public stockholding program is a policy tool under which the government procures crops like rice and wheat from farmers at a minimum support price (MSP), stores and distributes foodgrains to the poor.
- They can distort trade when the government purchases food from farmers at fixed prices.
- During MC13, the G33 (a group of developing nations including India) pushed for the long sought-after permanent solution to public stockholding.
- However, other developing countries and the United States refused to accept the permanent solution outright.

The G33 (or Friends of Special Products in Agriculture) is a coalition of developing countries formed ahead to the 2003 Cancun ministerial summit to cooperate during the Doha Round of World Trade Organization negotiations, particularly in agriculture. India is a member of this group.

- Agriculture (unrelated market access) - Many nations, including Brazil and some within the Cairnes Group coalition, demanded progress on unrelated market access negotiations.
- However, the European Union staunchly opposed to such linkages, further complicating negotiations.

Cairns Group established in 1986 is a coalition of agricultural countries advocating market-oriented reforms in the international agricultural trading system. India is not a member of this group.
