International relations

India has indicated a more independent foreign policy ~~is~~ ~~more~~. Justify this statement.

India during its foreign visits asserted that it is ^{having} more independent ^{foreign} Policy by showing the contradictory voting and abstaining in Global forums in criticising Iran, Russia and some other countries.

In the recent Global Fora (IAEA), Countries has Proposed to criticise Iran of their Uranium enrichment and ^{mandatory} monitoring of their Uranium enrichment Bars.

In that India abstained from voting, and thus resorted that it is not influenced by so called West or EU or any other.

India and its independent foreign Policy :

There have so many iterations like this happened in the Past that resorted India's Independent foreign Policy :

① India in WTO forum Opposed West's demand for waiver of customs duties imposed of trade in services. Thus it safeguarded its interest in disapproving global countries.

② Many developed and Democratic Countries have criticised Russia's action of involving in war with Ukraine in UNSC forum.

India had abstained many no. of times in voting against Russia and thus retained old substance, also India had condemned ^{by writing} against ^{Russia} and also favoured Russia because of ^{Russia's} ~~its~~ Security needs & Concerns.

③ India had globally voted against UNSC
resolution in environmental Policies along with Russia.

④ India in UNESCO forum had opposed Pakistan's idea of Sept's International day of Muslim Minorities.

Thus India has many times reiterated India's independent foreign Policy. India has these many decades have ~~old~~ ^{well} maintained its non aligned ~~the~~ stand, ^{not biased} towards any country.
