Need for parental concern -

- ↳ ~~Most of the countries~~ There is a Rt. to choice whether a person wants to be a part of govt. initiative or his child not.
- ↳ Most of the countries as per WHO survey uses written consent.
- ↳ Vaccination is itself a voluntary process and not a compulsion.
- ↳ Lack of any sincerity with govt. initiative can harm a child who is responsibility of a parent.

No need for concern.

- ↳ People being unaware about the disease ill effect can take it lightly or neglect it.
- ↳ Vaccination is provided with full research & survey so need to have fear regarding it.

↳ Consent regarding process issues can delay the govt. process and may become a hurdle in its achievement fastly.

↳ It is for the welfare of children which is the duty of Govt & a step towards protecting the society.

Immunization is one of the most important & cost effect strategy for preventⁿ of childhood sickness & vaccination is a part of it. But taking a step toward the betterment of a person also require his consent.
