

Q) Discuss the application and special feature of recently launched Radar imaging satellite - RISAT-2B by ISRO?

Ans) Indian space Research organization launched "RISAT-2B" satellite from Satish Dhawan space center. It is a Radar imaging satellite.

This diagram show various types of features of this satellite.

It is a good indication towards India because it help to various types of sectors.

- 1) Through this "RISAT-2B" satellite our military force empower because they given information of outside of border activity.
- 2) It help the Indian meteorological department to provide information related disaster.
- 3) It given monsoon related information to agriculture sector.
- 4) The additional power of this satellite is it given information of any condition like rainy and cloudy season.
- 5) It is built by the Indian technology so it ensure India technological power in Global level.

Basically RISAT-2B satellite given priority towards internal security.