

India's regulations and norms in exports need to match the international standards for global acceptance of Indian products. Discuss.

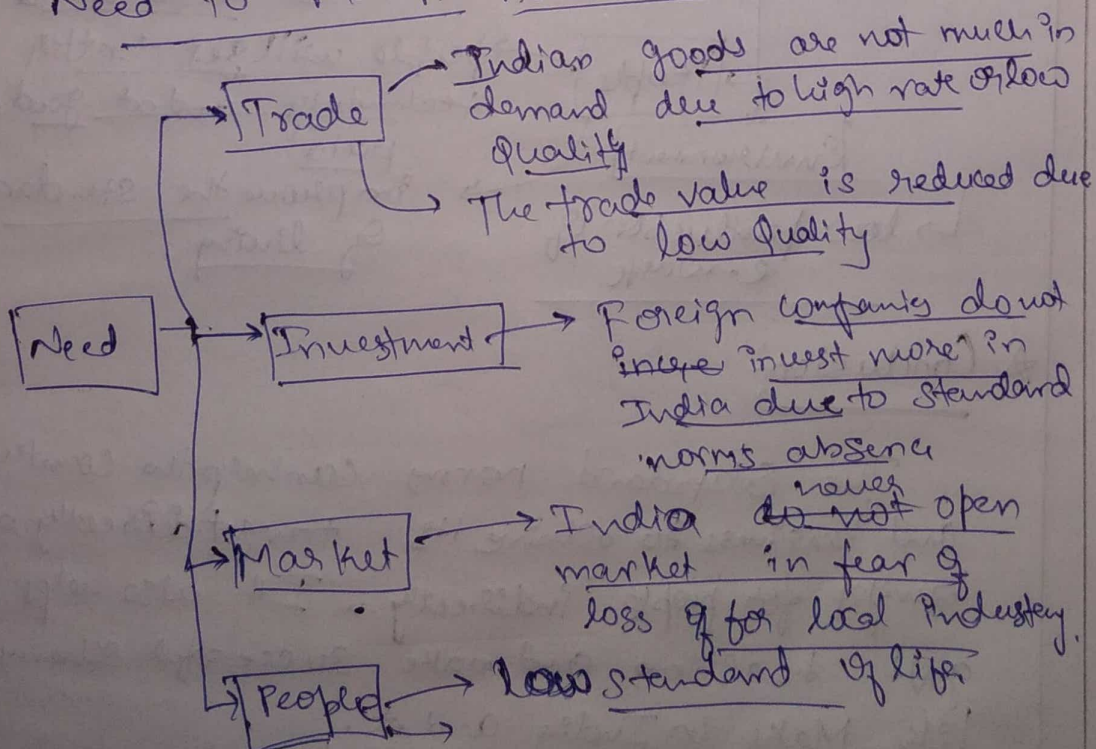

Indian goods and import are certified and inspected on the basis of Quality Council of India (QCI), Export Inspection Council (EIC) and etc.

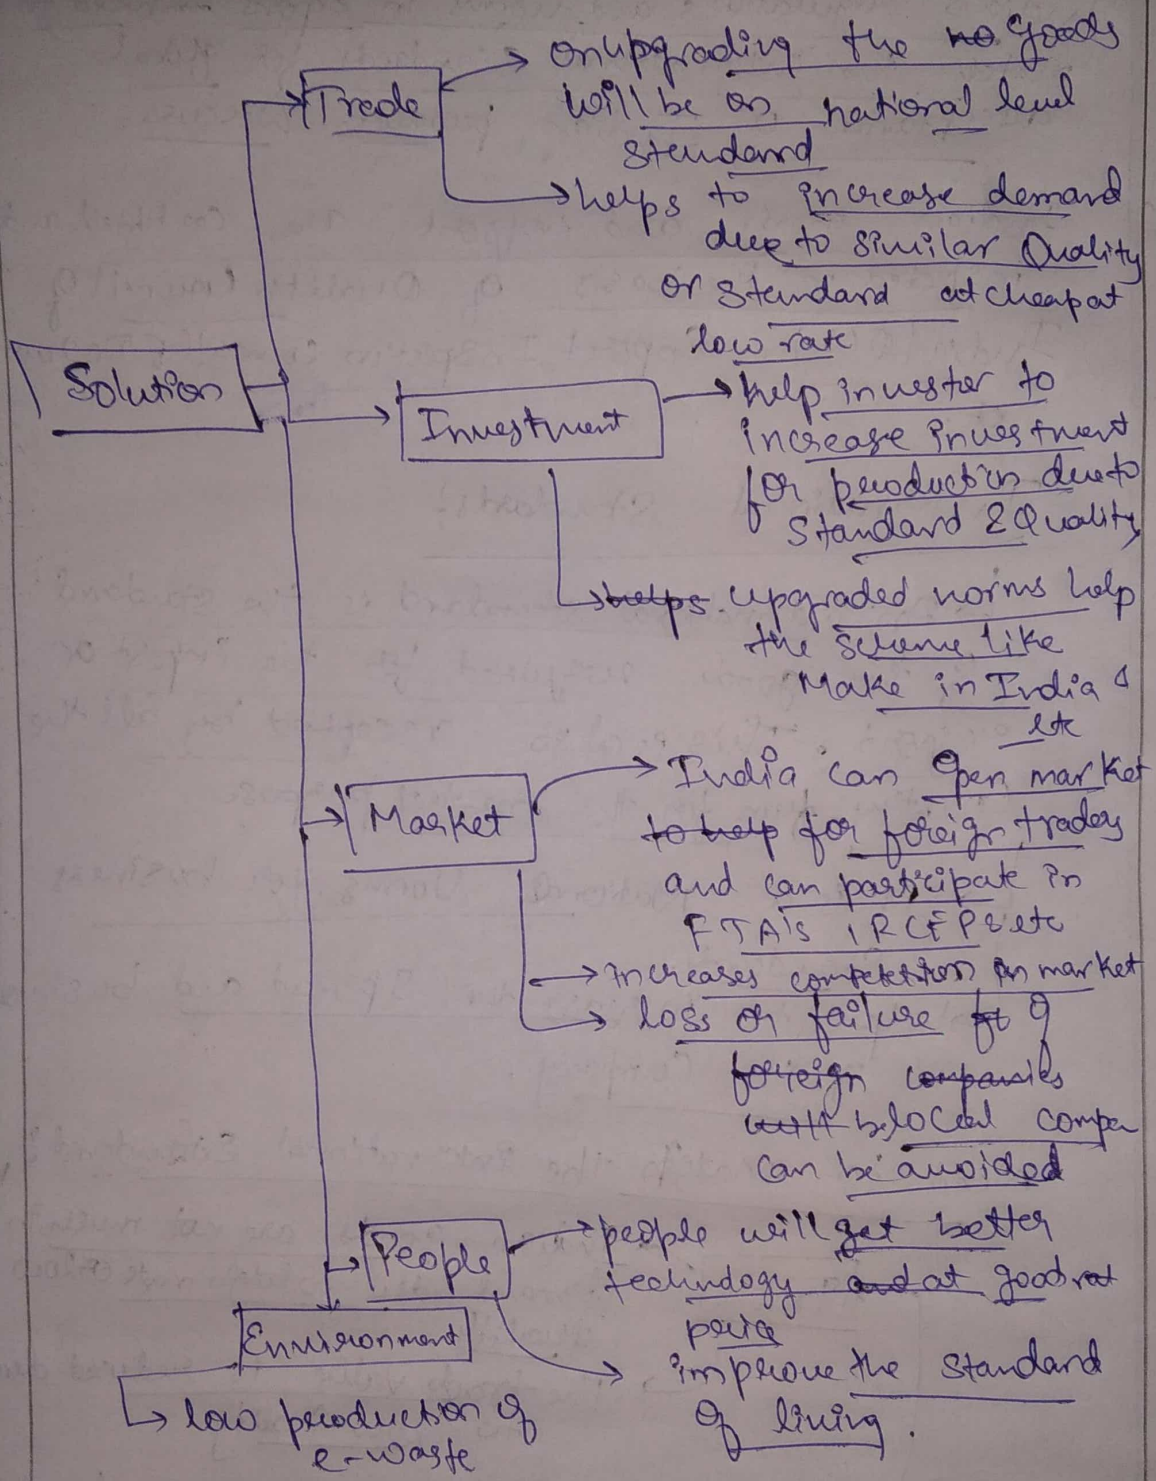

International Standards!

↳ An international standard is the standard of the goods required for the import or export. This is also accepted by all the countries for the market purpose.

↳ It is a National Norms for business Standards.
↳ helps to increase the spread and business of the company.

Need to match the International Standard!

★ Conclusion:

The Standard norms can help to country and business to achieve its target directly and benefit for people indirectly. It also helps govt to achieve and make successful scheme like Make in India and etc.
