

1. India pursuing an independent foreign policy is not only essential for country or South Asian region, it can have bearing on deprived population on world. Analyse.

India's foreign policy is only only structured across past for its self development but also across the global nations for the promotion and development of deprived population of the World.

1. Non-Alignment Movement

1. Be neutral towards Western bloc and Eastern bloc powers.

2. Led to stability of India during Cold War and also led to the prosperity of South Asian region.

3. India's Stand in NAM led to supply to medicines and food to war stricken countries like Yemen, Syria, South Sudan for its deprived population.

FIGURE: India's foreign policy

2. Ait East Policy:

1. Framed to promote the developed of India with the South East and South Asian Region as a whole.
2. Led to the ASEAN forum and SAARC forum leading to economic, social, political development.
3. Vietnam and Indonesia deprived population was satisfied when attacked by natural disaster and poverty.

3. Neighbourhood first policy:

1. Stability of India is structured by this policy.
2. Bangladesh, Bhutan, Nepal, Sri Lanka security and trade are satisfied by India.
3. Food, essentials are given to the nations deprived population during disasters.

4. Look West Policy:

1. Capitalist ~~now~~ countries also shaped development
2. Trade with European, America led to signing of treaties [Security agreements also]
3. This led to trade development in deprived nations around India and Europe.

India's foreign policy always targets prosperity of whole region.